Issue concerning potholes

It is a matter of common knowledge that there are large number of deaths as a result of fatal accidents which occur due to the potholes on the roads. This is particularly so in the city of Mumbai as well as in the city of Bengaluru.

There is little doubt that those who are obliged to maintain the roads under the municipal laws are not doing their job as effectively as they should. It is as a result of this that fatal accidents are taking place and the families are facing distress.

Recently, there was a report in one of the newspapers that the number of deaths as a result of accidents due to potholes are more than the the number of deaths due to terrorists' attacks. This is frightening, if true.

Even otherwise, this is obviously a very grave and serious issue and the legal representatives of persons who have lost their lives as a result of accidents due to potholes on the roads should be entitled to compensation if nothing else as a tortious claim.

We request the Supreme Court Committee on Road Safety to look into the matter at the earliest and give us a report in this regard including determining the quantum of compensation.

List the matter on 18th September, 2018
